THE BROOKLINE BIRD CLUB, INC.

There are now about 1,150 members in the Brookline Bird Club (BBC). Membership is open to all who are interested in birds and nature. A membership form can be found at the end of the bulletin. Whether you are a member or not, you are invited to participate in our activities. All trips listed in this bulletin are free of charge, though some trips may specify costs for travel or admission.

The BBC stresses the importance of good public relations. When attending trips, you should park your vehicle off the road, away from driveways and posted areas, so that traffic can flow unimpeded. Respect special guidelines at birding locations such as cemeteries and national wildlife refuges. Most important, do not enter private property unless you have permission. For a refresher on responsible birding, see the BBC Code of Ethics posted on our website and published yearly in the spring bulletin.

Should weather conditions appear bad and driving hazardous, contact the leader, at whose discretion the trip may be postponed or canceled. Also, check MASSBIRD for trip updates.

Bring a lunch on all-day trips. Inform the leader if you need to leave early. Try to carpool whenever possible, not only to save costs and fuel, but also so that the leader can take everyone to limited-access places.

NOTES TO LEADERS

If you cannot lead a scheduled trip, you are responsible for finding a substitute leader. If you must cancel due to bad weather or other emergency, use the BBC Email Hotline and MASSBIRD to get the word out. Reports are very important to the BBC. Leaders are sent in advance a copy of the Massachusetts checklist, which should be filled out as soon as possible and forwarded to the club statistician (see the first page for contact information).

If a leader records either a “write-in” or rarity on the Mass. Checklist (e.g., Sedge Wren, Barn Owl, Western Kingbird) he or she should post to Massbird and call Bill Drummond at 978-975-1167, Bird Watcher’s Supply and Gift at 978-462-0775, and Massachusetts Audubon Society (MAS) at 781-259-2150. MAS can be phoned at any time.

INFORMATION & RESOURCES

- Massachusetts Voice of Audubon: call 781-259-8805 to hear a report on Eastern MA, Western MA, Nantucket, and Cape Cod bird sightings. Use the same number to report sightings for all but Eastern MA. To report Eastern MA sightings, phone the Wildlife Information Line at (781)259-2150.
- BBC Rare Bird Email Hotline: contact Barbara Volkle at barb620@theworld.com for details.
- MASSBIRD email list: see www.massbird.org for details on how to subscribe and how to view message archives.

- Family Radio Service (FRS) radios: the BBC has adopted the American Birding Association standard channel 11/22. See www.americanbirding.org for more information.
- Massbird.org: for sightings, links to local bird clubs, and general information visit www.massbird.org.

For general birding tips and information, call Bill Drummond at 978-975-1167.

THE BBC, FACEBOOK, AND YOU!

The Brookline Bird Club’s social networking and online presence has changed from a group to an official page! What does this mean for you? An easier BBC Facebook experience! Club members will be able to use the BBC Facebook page every day to keep up with their birding friends, upload an unlimited number of photos, share links and videos, and learn more about and from their fellow club members. The BBC Facebook page will only be as good as our club members make it. So feel free to “Like” us and interact.

To sign up for your free Facebook account, go to <http://www.facebook.com/>. Once you have set up your account, type Brookline Bird Club in the search window and you will be taken to the BBC Facebook page; once there, click the “Like” button. It’s as simple as that! There is also a “Like” button for our Facebook page on the BBC home page.

Suggestions or comments on the BBC Facebook page can be sent to Eddie Giles egiles@brooklinebirdclub.org.

SPECIAL NOTE FOR MOUNT AUBURN CEMETERY TRIPS

Trip leaders at MAC must be able to park. Trip participants are kindly asked to leave the first parking space in front of the medical office building free for the leader. Just west of the cemetery is free on-street parking on side streets (e.g., Francis St.) in Watertown with a short walk or ride on bus 71 or 73 to the cemetery gate. See <http://www.mapquest.com/#b1cbc5bd2f4181aace5fbf0a>. The BBC does not endorse use of the Star Market parking lot; towing is possible. Check daily listings for starting times. Very large groups may be split. Thank you.

REGISTER NOW FOR ALL-DAY PELAGIC TRIPS AND MORE

Three dedicated pelagic trips out of Hyannis are planned for the summer and fall, as well as the popular annual trips to Downeast Maine and the Rangeley Lakes Region. You must register for the Downeast Maine trip by April 1. See page 44 for details. Reserve your space now!

SUPPORT WILDLIFE CONSERVATION AT TAX TIME

Since 1978, the Natural Heritage and Endangered Species Program (NHESP) has been responsible for protecting the 176 species of animals and 256 species of native plants officially listed as Endangered, Threatened, or of Special Concern in Massachusetts. In 2004, the program was removed from the state's operating budget, leaving it to be funded by project-specific permitting and fees, federal grants, contributions--and your voluntary donations on state income tax forms. Help support the NHESP by making a contribution to 'Endangered Wildlife Conserv.' on your state income tax form line 32A or make a direct gift. See <http://www.mass.gov/dfwele/dfw/nhesp/nhesp.htm> for more information.

BBC BOOK FUND AND RESOURCES FOR TEACHERS

The BBC, through its Conservation and Education Committee, has developed a program to assist and support K-12 teachers who would like to incorporate the study of birds into their classes. The program has three components:

(1) Book Fund: The committee is authorized to provide donated funds to a limited number of schools to purchase books or other teaching materials about birds, nature, and natural science. If you know of specific teachers or schools who might be suitable recipients for this fund, please contact John Nelson or Dave Williams:

jnelson@northshore.edu

dave.williams6@gmail.com

(2) Teaching Resources: The committee has developed a document titled "Birds and Bird Conservation: Teaching Resources" that includes a detailed list of organizations (with web sites) which offer bird programs and resources for students and teachers, as well as annotated lists of recommended bird and nature books for both children and adults. The document can be downloaded from the BBC website at www.brooklinebirdclub.org/p/education-resources.html

(3) Consultation: The BBC counts many experienced educators on its board and among its membership, and we would be glad to assist teachers in designing a bird-study curriculum. For more information about curriculum consultation, contact John Nelson or Dave Williams.

CLUB ARCHIVIST WANTED

The BBC gathered many materials for the 100th anniversary year in 2013. Photos, club minutes, newspaper clippings, historic trip lists, and other cool stuff, used on the web site, in the written club history, and at the anniversary banquet, will deteriorate further if they are not scanned and organized in electronic form. We are looking for someone with a scanner and basic computer skills to help us archive these materials for the future. Please contact Sylvia at smartin@brooklinebirdclub.org if you are interested.

BROOKLINE BIRD CLUB CODE OF ETHICS

(Adapted from the American Birding Association's Code of Birding Ethics, available at the ABA website <http://americanbirding.org>)

Today's birdwatchers are a powerful force for nature conservation. The number of us interested in birds rises continually, and it is vital that we take seriously our responsibility to avoid any harm to birds or the environment upon which they depend.

We believe that all birders have an obligation at all times to protect wildlife, the natural environment and the rights of others. We therefore pledge ourselves to provide leadership in meeting this obligation by adhering to the following general guidelines of good birding behavior.

Birders should always act in ways that do not endanger the welfare of birds or other wildlife. Since birds' tolerance of disturbance varies between species and seasons, it is safer to keep all disturbances to a minimum.

In keeping with this principle we will:

1. Observe and photograph birds without knowingly disturbing them in any significant way;
2. Avoid chasing or repeatedly flushing birds;
3. Only sparingly use recordings and similar methods of attracting birds and not use these methods in heavily birded areas, especially during breeding season;
4. Keep an appropriate distance from nests and nesting colonies so as not to disturb them or expose them to danger; and
5. Refrain from handling birds or eggs unless engaged in recognized research activities.

Birders should always act in ways that do not harm the natural environment.

In keeping with this principle we will:

1. Stay on existing roads, trails and pathways whenever possible;
2. Avoid trampling vegetation or otherwise disturbing fragile habitat; and
3. Be especially careful near breeding habitat.

Birders should always respect the rights of others.

In keeping with this principle we will:

1. Respect the privacy and property of others by observing

“No Trespassing” signs and by asking permission to enter private or posted lands;

2. Observe all laws and the rules and regulations which govern use of public lands; and
3. Practice common courtesy in our contacts with others and always behave in a manner that will enhance the image of the birding community in the eyes of the public.

Birders in groups should assume special responsibilities.

As group members, we will:

1. Take care to alleviate the problems and disturbances that are multiplied when more people are present;
2. Act in consideration of the group's interests as well as our own, and be especially accommodating to new birders;
3. Realize a camera offers no privileges to push in front of others before everyone in the group has finished watching the bird;
4. Be considerate of others when using hand-held FRS radios in the field by keeping the volume low enough to hear a transmission without disturbing others; by putting distance between those of us using radios; and by considering the use of earbuds to keep transmissions private; and
5. Support, by our actions, the responsibility of the group leader or leaders for the conduct of the group.

(BBC Code of Ethics continued on next page)

GENERAL RULES FOR BIRDING IN CEMETERIES

Birders visiting cemeteries should be respectful of other visitors and mindful of cemetery rules and regulations, particularly those concerning hours and parking. Picnicking is not appropriate and is against the rules in some cemeteries, such as Mount Auburn Cemetery in Watertown/Cambridge.

Leaders of groups planning to visit cemeteries should call in advance to register. Birders should avoid touching monuments and certainly should not use them for tables or backrests. If birders observe any vandalism or disturbances, they should notify cemetery management. Many cemeteries would appreciate a report of your bird sightings for their records.

Mount Auburn Cemetery, in particular, enjoys a long history of well-mannered BBC groups and depends on the efforts made by club leaders and members to set examples for the many visitors and groups that gather there each spring. Club members can do their part to maintain this relationship by observing the birding ethics published above. Further, birders in Mount Auburn should move away from areas where memorial and funeral services are being held and give grieving visitors their privacy. Birders should use paths to avoid trampling natural plantings and should gather in only small quiet groups, not large loud crowds. Cars should be parked on roads without green lines with all wheels on the pavement. Observe "no parking" signs and requests from the cemetery staff. Move far away from the entrance area to park. Do not park on sections of roads needed for funeral processions -- Central, Lawn, Spruce, and Fountain Avenues. Food and drinks are not permitted in the cemetery. Groups planning to visit Mount Auburn should register well in advance by calling 617-607-1986 (group registration) or completing the online group registration form at www.mountauburn.org. (Note: Spring BBC trips are already registered.) Birders mindful of the above will help preserve the special peace and tranquility of Mount Auburn.

SAVE THE DATE ANNUAL SPRING MEETING APRIL 11, 2014

We are delighted to present board member and new North American Big Year recordholder Neil Hayward, who will speak about the thrills, spills, and chills of his "Accidental Big Year." In 2013 he toted up an amazing 747 ABA area species, beating out the legendary Sandy Komito.

Preceded by a social hour starting at 6:00 p.m.

Did You Remember to Renew Your Membership?

PROGRAM OF TRIPS
April 1, 2014 to June 30, 2014

All trips free of charge except where noted.
Includes limited-participation trips not on the website.
Watch for Birding 101 and Limited Mobility logos.

Saturday, April 5

Newburyport and Vicinity. All Day.

We will do a little walking but a lot of birding close to our cars in search of migrants.
Meeting place: Newburyport District Courthouse, Route 1 traffic circle, Newburyport. 8:00 a.m.

Ida Girunas, Reading (781) 944-5135, cell (781) 929-8772
ida8@verizon.net

Great Meadows National Wildlife Refuge, Concord. Morning.

This is an easy walk in search of early spring migrants such as Wood Duck, Pied-Billed Grebe, Eastern Phoebe, Tree Swallow, and Rusty Blackbird. Meeting place: Refuge parking lot on Monsen Road (off Rt. 62). $2 entry fee. 8:00 a.m.

Jonathan Center, Chelmsford (978) 256-4489
jbcenter@verizon.net

Saturday, April 12

Crooked Pond (Bald Hill Reservation) to Plum Island. Morning to Mid-Afternoon.

We will listen for the song of Winter Wren and other special birds as we walk a relatively flat, but often wet, trail ½ mile into this beautiful wooded area. Then we will continue to Plum Island. Meeting place: Main entrance to Crooked Pond on Middleton Road, Boxford. 7:30 a.m. Those wishing to take the train to Newburyport will be met at the train station there on the west side of the tracks at 10:30 a.m. Call leader two days in advance if taking the train. Those driving will meet on the west side at the southern end.

William Drummond, North Andover (978) 975-1167
wcdrummond@verizon.net

Sunday, April 13

Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary. Morning

We will walk about three hours on easy trails in search of early spring migrants. Some trails may be wet and make waterproof boots necessary. Note: Admission for Mass Audubon members is free and $4 for non-members. Meeting place: Sanctuary parking lot at the end of the drive at 87 Perkins Row, Topsfield. 8:00 a.m.

Jonathan Center, Chelmsford (978) 256-4489
jbcenter@verizon.net

Hawk Watching Workshop and Field Trip. Morning.

Co-sponsored with the Eastern Mass Hawk Watch. This is a workshop discussing spring hawk migration at Plum Island. Following the workshop (depending on weather conditions), we'll head over to Plum Island Lot #1, where we will have a chance to put into practice our skills at one of the most significant spring hawk watching sites on the East Coast. There is a $10 fee for the workshop, or you can join the field trip alone at 11:30 (free). Meeting place: Joppa Flats Education Center. For directions and registration info see:

http://massbird.org/emhw/EMHW\_Workshop\_2014.htm.

Friday, June 13 – Sunday, June 15

Weekend trip to the Northeast Kingdom of Vermont

Explore the Northeast Kingdom of Vermont on a three-day birding adventure. We will look for boreal species such as Black-backed Woodpecker, Gray Jay, Spruce Grouse, and Boreal Chickadee, in addition to nesting warblers. We start at Victory Bog, where many of the boreal species can be found, and work our way north to Lake Willoughby, considered by some to be the Lac Lucerne of the United States; Peregrine Falcons nest on the cliffs that rise above the lake. Sunday morning we will have an early start at the famous Moose Bog and South American Road and visit the Silvio O. Conte Wildlife Refuge. We will also visit some of our favorite birding areas in Orleans County. Participation is limited; please contact the leaders for further information.

BIRD CONSERVATION

The BBC encourages a commitment to bird conservation and participation in activities and organizations that promote conservation through collection of data, monitoring of populations, preservation of habitat, protection of at-risk species, political action, and education. Check our website for a list of conservation activities, resources, and organizations for birders.

WE WANT YOUR INPUT

The Board of Directors wants to ensure it is discussing ideas and addressing questions important to the club. Members are encouraged to forward issues to the board via a club officer or board member. The board meets three times a year—late winter, late spring, and early fall—to discuss various items related to club functions. For contact information for officers and board members, please see the front pages of the bulletin.

WEBSITE ACCESS TO TRIP LIST

As a convenience to members, we publish the schedule of club trips on the BBC website www.brooklinebirdclub.org. We do not list the limited-participation trips, however, so continue to check for them here in the hardcopy bulletin.

BBC MEMBER DISCOUNT

Steve Grinley, of Bird Watcher's Supply and Gift, is offering current BBC members a 10% discount on all books and ABA guides as well as substantial discounts on binoculars, spotting scopes, and tripods. Bring in your current BBC Blue Book to the store located on the Route 1 traffic circle in Newburyport. For more information, phone Steve at 978-462-0775 or toll-free at 877-289-2974.

ADDITIONAL OUT-OF-STATE TRIPS

The following tours are led by long-term members of the BBC. Many of these tours are popular with club members and are listed here for your convenience. The BBC does not sponsor nor is it responsible for any matter relating to these tours.

As a service to members, Bill Drummond will lead a series of out-of-state trips. The 2014 trips are April in Texas, including the hill country, Big Bend National Park for Colima Warbler, and the Davis Mountains, and the Alaska trip in June including Nome, Barrow, St. Paul and the Pribilofs, Kenai Fjords National Park, and Denali National Park. There will also be a similar Alaska trip in 2015. Please note that these trips will not be on Bill's website, but lists from previous trips are available there. For more information contact:

The BBC Big Year

by Robert H. Stymeist, Club Statistician

This past year, the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Brookline Bird Club was celebrated with a series of events, none more important than the core mission of the club: the field trips. This is what our club is all about. It has been said many times that the Brookline Bird Club is the most active bird club in the United States because of the number and variety of birding trips we offer. For our centennial, inspired by the recent book and movie The Big Year, we decided to do a club-wide big year, with all birders and trips contributing to beating the club's previous year totals (MA and NE) of species recorded. Anniversary committee members worked hard to organize a series of trips throughout the year to emphasize and search out some of Massachusetts' elusive species in an effort to amass as many different species as we could. We exceeded beyond expectations with a total of 331 species, 317 in Massachusetts and an additional 14 species from New England and one from Quebec, the Ross's Gull, our very first organized trip outside the country! Our previous Massachusetts record was 302 in 2004, and our New England record was 314 found on BBC trips in 1994.

The club scheduled 298 trips during the year plus an additional 19 impromptu trips in search of reported rarities throughout the year for a total of 317 trips, ironically the same number of species recorded in Massachusetts during the year! Of these trips 195 were morning trips, 67 were all-day trips, 24 were evening trips and 10 were pelagic trips; there were also weekend trips to Rangely, Maine and Machias Seal Island in Maine.

Over 60 members helped lead trips this year, many of whom have been leading trips for the club for over 20 continuous years. Special thanks should go to Ida Giriunas, who alone led 29 trips including 9 of the 19 impromptu trips.

Highlights were many. The club added several new birds to the overall list: Northern Lapwing, Common Ringed Plover, Red-necked Stint, and Mountain Bluebird. The longest drive for a bird was the club's first trip out of the country to Chambly, Quebec, for the Ross's Gull. Ten members drove nearly 600 miles in 15.5 hours. It was a life bird for eight of the ten and the bird performed well for over an hour.

To see the entire list and where they were first seen during the year, visit the Brookline Bird Club's web site <http://www.brooklinebirdclub.org/>. The more unusual birds are in boldface, and the birds that have no dates are birds that the club has recorded in past years. The club didn't miss much this past year and many of those missed were pelagic (ocean) birds. This was not a good year for pelagics. Whale-watch boats were having a tough time finding Wilson's Storm-Petrels and bad weather cancelled some of the trips. Species like Northern Fulmar and Pomarine Jaeger are usually found every year. The big misses included Yellow-crowned Night Heron, Clapper Rail, Western Sandpiper, Buff-breasted Sandpiper, Northern Saw-whet Owl even with two special evening walks at a banding station, and Lapland Longspur in Massachusetts.
