PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

Dear Members,

As of this writing, shorebird migration is delighting us with sightings at Plum Island, Allens Pond, and other locations. Red Knots, dowitchers, Least, Semipalmated, White-rumped, and Baird's sandpipers, godwits, yellowlegs, and other shorebirds are making their way south from northern breeding grounds. Thousands of swallows have been staging at Parker River; warblers are beginning to pass through western and central Massachusetts.

This summer we were cautioned by Mass Wildlife, Mass Audubon, and other organizations to take down our bird feeders and empty bird baths due to an unknown affliction. Was it really due to the seventeen-year cicada cycle? Since refilling feeders, American Goldfinches are bringing their young to dine and hummingbirds have returned to slurp with their typical territorial gusto.

Despite ongoing pandemic challenges, the club ran an impressive number of summer and early fall walks. We also enjoyed a highly successful overnight pelagic trip out of Hyannis, as well as a few day trips from Gloucester. We look forward to exciting fall and winter trips: visiting some tried-and-true favorite places and exploring habitats new to the BBC. Will this coming winter bring cherished finches and other rarities to our part of New England? At least one club trip is scheduled to target these winter visitors. Make sure to check this Blue Book, Massbird, our Facebook page, and the BBC website for specifics.

The club will return to offering 3–4 workshops per year, offering an engaging and informative variety of topics for both newer and experienced birders. Unless otherwise noted, they will be virtual. Our next three Members meetings will also be virtual: author Rosemary Mosco on Wednesday, October 27, followed by speakers in February and April 2022. Watch for emails, website, Massbird, and postcard announcements.

BBC committees continue to meet to ensure the club's organizational and fiscal strengths and action-based voice for birds and the environment remain strong. The club's newly founded Community and Culture Committee mission statement reflects our commitment to inclusion and diversity. We hope you will continue to welcome and mentor those who wish to learn about birds and participate in our walks and activities. Many of us began birding this way, with support from a birder who embodies the BBC's core values. We encourage club members to join committees. Please contact the appropriate committee chair for information! You can find them listed on the Get Involved page of our website, brooklinebirdclub.org/about/get-involved.

What lies ahead? We continue to bring masks and practice safe participation during walks and other club events. We always welcome new trip leaders and committee participants. We are grateful for the focus and dedication of our Board members and leaders, and appreciate the ongoing support of our members.

Be well and good birding!

Leslie Kramer
President

WE WANT TO HEAR FROM YOU!

Addressing ideas and issues that are important to club members is our top priority. The board meets four times a year to discuss club-related items. Members are encouraged to reach out to officers and directors with thoughts and suggestions. You can also email us at webmaster@brooklinebirdclub.org.

IT'S MEMBERSHIP RENEWAL TIME!

We encourage you to renew and feel pride in being a part of an amazing network of dedicated birders. You can renew your membership (or join!) by credit/debit card or PayPal on brooklinebirdclub.org, or by filling out the form on the back cover of this bulletin.

We recommend renewing by the end of December so you can continue to receive meeting notices and bulletins without interruption. Thank you for your membership support!

VIRTUAL WORKSHOPS

The club continues to offer virtual workshops and webinars. Registration is required and limited to BBC members. Workshop topics have ranged from audio birding to bird identification to nature photography. See the BBC website for current listings and registration (brooklinebirdclub.org/tripsevents/workshops/.)

2021 VIRTUAL FALL MEETING

Rosemary Mosco

“Cartooning for Bird Conservation”

Wednesday, October 27, 2021

7:00 – 8:30 p.m.

A link will be sent to all members.

Join Rosemary Mosco, science author and creator of Bird and Moon Comics, for an evening of science, art, and fun. Learn how Rosemary built a career that blends art and science, and why this combination can help people understand and conserve birds and other wildlife.

2022 MEMBERS MEETINGS

February 9, 2022, 7:00 – 8:30 p.m.

Steve Kress and Derrick Jackson

“The Puffin Plan: Restoring Seabirds to Egg Rock and Beyond.”

April 14, 2022, 7:00 – 8:30 p.m.

Paul Baicich

“Birding and Beyond in Cuba.”

BBC Donation to Wildlands Trust

By John Nelson

The BBC, through our Conservation and Education Committee, is pleased to donate $250 to Wildlands Trust, a regional land trust working to conserve native habitats and lands of high ecological value in southeastern Massachusetts. As part of a unified effort by the Association of Mass Bird Clubs, the BBC recently appealed to Wildlands Trust to help prevent development at Cumberland Farms in Middleborough and Halifax, one of the prime grassland properties in our state. The Trust has long been working to conserve habitat at Cumberland Farms, and in the face of an upcoming land auction, it is now partnering with other conservation groups, as well as Mass Fish and Wildlife, to protect Cumberland Farms in the future. President Karen Gray graciously thanked the BBC for our donation, while donation director Sue Chamberlain noted that the “BBC was instrumental in moving the protection of this valuable habitat forward.” This is a worthy organization, and we hope that individual BBC members will consider donations to Wildlands Trust.

IDA GIRIUNAS MEMORIAL GARDEN

By Linda Ferraresso

It's hard to believe that Ida Giriunas, well known Massachusetts birder and long-time director of the Brookline Bird Club (BBC), passed away two years ago on August 20. We wanted to update friends and the birding community on the status of the expansion of the Mass Audubon Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary's bird habitat garden area in her name, funded by your generous contributions. Despite the uncertainty created by the pandemic for the last year and a half, IRWS has been busy adding to the gardens and they are filling out beautifully. A sanctuary volunteer is in the process of creating a guide to the plants including their names and benefits to the birds. Additional plants will be added this fall, and a location for a plaque will be evaluated. While we hoped to have a formal dedication, that is on hold till the current public health situation is resolved to satisfactory levels of safety for Mass Audubon Society staff and visitors. Please stop by to see the gardens! But remember to go online beforehand and reserve a parking spot. And visit our website for photos and more details, as well as future updates

SUPPORT NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGES THROUGH DUCK STAMPS

By Barbara Volkle

As birders, we treasure our visits to national wildlife refuges locally and nationally. Of the 26 refuges in New England, 11 are in Massachusetts, including Parker River, Monomoy, Great Meadows, Oxbow, and Assabet River.

One of the easiest ways to support bird habitat conservation is by buying Federal Duck Stamps, which are among the most successful conservation tools ever created.

In August 2021, the Federal Duck Stamp Contest rules were changed. Starting in 2022, they will remove the “celebrating out waterfowl hunting heritage” theme, eliminate the mandatory inclusion of an appropriate hunting element, change the judging requirements, and revise the qualifications for judge selection. Thanks to all who submitted comments during the public comment period.

For every dollar you spend on a duck stamp, ninety-eight percent goes toward protecting vital wetland habitat. Your stamp also provides free admission to refuges. The 2021–2022 Federal Duck Stamp went on sale in June. Buy your stamp at refuge offices and admission booths, the post office, on the BBC website, or at duckstamp.com.

SEABIRDS — BOOK REVIEWS

By Sebastian Jones

When Peter Harrison's Seabirds: An Identification Guide (Houghton Mifflin, 1983), the first comprehensive modern guide to pelagic species, was published, famed naturalist Roger Tory Peterson heaped praise on the book and called the ocean "the great frontier" for birders. Four decades later, oceanic birds remain among the most mysterious, most sought after, and most difficult to identify species. Thankfully, two recently published field guides comprehensively explore this great frontier and help prepare birders for their next offshore adventure or visit to Race Point: Howell and Zufelt's Oceanic Birds of the World: A Photo Guide (Princeton University Press, 2019) and Harrison, Perrow, and Larsson's Seabirds: The New Identification Guide (Lynx Editions, 2021).

Seabirds: The New Identification Guide is a top-to-bottom redesign of the 1983 classic. Lavishly illustrated by Harrison and Larsson, it covers 433 species in granular detail that is as impressive as it is useful in the field. Emphasis is given to real world identification situations and dilemmas, with helpful comparative illustrations and notes included for sorting through similar species. While the guide is primarily intended for pelagic encounters, I suspect I'll be reaching for it the next time there's a tricky gull or tern to identify, as Larsson's illustrations of these species are excellent. Overall, this stands as the current authoritative treatment of ocean birds, delivered in a stylish, intelligently organized manner.

Oceanic Birds of the World: A Photo Guide takes a different approach by opting for photographs and focusing on the 270 species that would likely be seen on an offshore pelagic trip (at the expense of sea ducks and many species of terns and gulls). It follows a similar philosophy to Seabirds in terms of anticipating the challenges of identifying these species in the field and focusing on the field marks and behaviors that are most likely to clinch an identification. Photographs are used strategically: for every stunning shot of an adult albatross or penguin, attention is given to photos of birds at varying ages and from varying angles that help underline key field marks and give the reader a sense for how these birds might look as they zip by at sea. It's a worthy entry that emphasizes practicality and utility in the field, and given the smaller number of species covered, a more portable volume.

One final option to consider, especially for those looking to dip their toes in the water, is picking up a used copy of the original 1983 Seabirds. It's outdated by today's standards but goes into more detail than generalist regional field guides and can be picked up on the cheap.

It's hard to pick a favorite between these books, and certainly one's preference for illustrations or photographs could help sway the decision. For me, it would have to be the 2021 edition of Seabirds: The New Identification Guide. It is a monumental work.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS BIRD COUNT

National Audubon is evaluating options for the 2021 Christmas Bird Counts, December 14, 2021 through January 5, 2022. For updated information, please check back to our website brooklinebirdclub.org. Thanks for your understanding as we all navigate our new normal.

NOTES TO TRIP PARTICIPANTS

As the pandemic continues to evolve, the BBC may need to make adjustments to trip rules and expectations. Please check the website for current updates.

Whether you are a member or not, you are invited to participate in our trips and activities free of charge, though there may be costs for travel or admission for trips farther afield.

The BBC stresses the importance of good public relations. When attending trips, please park your vehicle off the road, away from driveways and posted areas, so as not to impede traffic. Respect guidelines at birding locations such as cemeteries and national wildlife refuges.

Most importantly, please do not enter private property unless you have permission. For a refresher on responsible birding, visit our updated Code of Ethics on the BBC website.

Should weather conditions appear severe and driving hazardous, please contact the trip leader, at whose discretion the trip may be postponed or canceled and check Massbird for trip updates.

Bring a lunch on all-day trips. Please inform the trip leader if you need to leave early. Try to carpool whenever possible since it not only saves costs and fuel but it also allows the leader to take groups to locations with limited access.

PROGRAM OF TRIPS

October 31, 2021 – March 31, 2022

NOTE: These trips are provisional and are subject to change based on public health guidelines. Please check the club web site for current information. All trips are free of charge unless otherwise indicated.

Sunday, October 31

New Hampshire Coast

8:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m.

We will look for winter ducks, alcids, gulls, and Snowy Owls, plus other late fall migrants. Contact leader for details. Meeting location: McDonald's parking lot at 710 Lafayette Road (Route 1) in Seabrook NH, just north of the MA/NH border.

Trip leader: Steve Mirick, (603) 661-7703
smirick@comcast.net

Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge

8:00 a.m. – 10:00 a.m.

Late October is often a time of year for fall lingerers, winter arrivals, and often a surprise or two. Join us for an approximately two-mile walk around Mt. Auburn over rolling terrain. Restrooms available. Meeting location: Inside the front gate on Mount Auburn Street.

Trip leader: Cliff Cook, (339) 222-4518

Saturday, November 6

Fresh Pond, Cambridge

7:00 a.m. – 9:00 a.m.

An easy two-mile walk through pondside meadows and forest paths at Fresh Pond. The over-wintering waterbirds have started to arrive, and we may see Ring-necked Ducks, Ruddy Ducks, and both Hooded and Common mergansers. Meadow and forest species may include year-round residents as well as seasonal visitors from the north (e.g. White-throated Sparrows, juncos). Meeting location: TD Bank parking lot, 211 Alewife Brook Parkway, Fresh Pond.

Trip leader: Thomas Michel, (617) 365-1102

Thomas_Michel@hms.harvard.edu

Essex to Plum Island

9:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m.

We will check out various spots from Essex to Plum Island looking for fall migrants. If bad weather is predicted, contact the leader by 6:00 p.m. the previous evening. Meeting location: Intersection of Island Road and Route 133 in Essex.

Trip leaders: Linda Ferraresso, (617) 755-1851

tattler1@comcast.net

Nick Paulson, (508) 330-4401

grendelpgill@yahoo.com

Sunday, November 7

The Lakes of Wakefield and Lynnfield

8:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.

We will visit several different lakes and ponds in Wakefield and Lynnfield primarily looking for waterfowl. Meeting location: Behind the Lakeside Inn on North Ave. in Wakefield.

Trip leader: Dave Williams, (781) 439-7187
dave.williams6@gmail.com

Tuesday, November 16

North Shore Waterfowl Expedition

7:30 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.

We will visit several different water bodies in Essex County, attempting to see as many as 25 different species of ducks and geese. We will end up at the Parker River National Wildlife Refuge. Meeting location: Topsfield Fair Grounds, Rt.1, Topsfield.

Trip leader: Dave Williams, (781) 439-7187
dave.williams6@gmail.com

Sunday, November 21

Halibut Point State Park, Rockport

8:00 a.m. – 10:00 a.m.

A two-hour walk, about 1.5 miles, over easy-to-moderate gravel roads and trails in search of seasonal specialties.

Boots advisable. Restrooms are available. Meeting location: Parking lot for Halibut Point State Park on Gott Avenue, just off Route 127. The Trustees members park free in season. On CATA's Lanesville bus route from the Rockport Train Station.

Trip leader: Peter Van Demark, (978) 546-2402
phvand@icloud.com

Saturday, November 27

Leader's Choice—South of Boston

The trip leader will monitor recent sightings and select the birdiest spots. Contact leader after November 24 for details on the meeting time and location. Co-sponsored with the South Shore Bird Club. Meeting location: To be determined.

Trip leader: Glenn d'Entremont, (781) 267-0442
gdentremont1@comcast.net

Tuesday, November 30

Great Meadows National Wildlife Refuge, Concord

8:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.

On this easy walk we will search for bluebirds, raptors, and wintering waterfowl, as well as wild turkeys that may be in the area. Meeting location: Refuge parking lot on Monsen Road (off Route 62).

Trip leader: Clayton Swanson, (978) 395-7877

Woodcock Watch, Oxbow NWR, Harvard

6:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

Join us to watch for American Woodcock. We will stay until it gets dark. Come early to enjoy other birds. Rain date Sunday, March 27, same time.

Meeting location: Part way down Still River Depot Road in Harvard at the big NWR sign on the right.

Trip leader: Don MacFarlane, (978) 897-7567

Sunday, March 27

Blue Hills

8:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.

This trip consists of several short one-mile hikes (the first is rather steep) to look for Turkey Vultures, Pileated Woodpeckers, Eastern Bluebirds, and early-arriving Eastern Phoebes and Pine Warblers. Meeting location: Small parking lot on Chickatawbut Road in Milton just east of Randolph Avenue (Route 28).

Trip leader: Steve Olanoff, (781) 326-6585
olanoff@aol.com

Blue Hills Woodcock Walk in Fowl Meadow

6:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

We are usually successful in seeing the American Woodcock's mating flight, and last year saw its mating display. We will hike one mile on a flat trail that may be wet. Meeting location: Small parking lot at Neponset Valley Parkway and Brush Hill Road in Milton.

Trip leader: Steve Olanoff, (781) 326-6585

NOTES TO TRIP LEADERS

Important: Please read the updated “Guidelines for Trip Leaders” document on our website, brooklinebirdclub.org/tripsevents/field-trips-about/.

- If you are unable to lead a trip you are scheduled to lead, you are responsible for finding a substitute. We encourage you to email fieldtripleaders@brooklinebirdclub.org and use your personal network to find a substitute who is familiar with the area where the trip is taking place.
- The minimum time for cancellations is 24 hours before the start time of the trip. If you know you must cancel a trip further in advance, email Massbird and Trips Coordinator Cliff Cook (ccook13@gmail.com) three to four days prior to the trip date. If you must cancel due to weather or an emergency, be sure to post to massbird@theworld.com and email Cliff Cook to update our website.
- Trip reports are an important part of promoting and documenting BBC trips. These trip reports are helpful to participants, and we hope that our sightings will benefit future conservation efforts as well as to help us better understand the population dynamics of the birds. Be sure to record the number of participants on the trip. You're also encouraged to provide photos in your trip report.
- Trip leaders should report their trip's sighting to eBird and share with the club eBird account (username: BrooklineBirdClub). Detailed instructions to create and share an ebird checklist can be found on brooklinebirdclub.org/field-trips-about.

- If you are unable to submit your report on eBird, contact Dave Williams (dave.williams6@gmail.com) for a field card.
- If possible, also send your report to Massbird and other local listservs and Facebook pages.
- If you record a rarity or a write-in on the Mass Checklist (e.g. Sedge Wren, Western Kingbird), please also post it to Massbird.

Bird Observer is a New England-based journal for birders featuring articles on birding locations, avian populations, and natural history, as well as book reviews, field notes, photographs, artwork, and more.

Subscriptions are $25 for six issues or $48 for two years. New subscribers who are also BBC members receive a free copy of the current issue.
